Foreword

Back in 1995 (Yes we've been around for a long time!) I received a 'mystery' package through the post. Now bear in mind that this was pre-internet days, so everything arrived by post – and we received a lot of packages. But there was something different about this one, because there was no clue as to who had sent it!

I remember opening the envelope now. It was a plain A4 manila one, with my name and company address written on the outside in ink. Inside was a corner-stapled wad of papers – a bit dog eared to be honest – and across the top in old-fashioned typewriter script were the words... 'System 89p'.

Underneath this wad of papers, was a hand-written letter. "I've been working on this for the past 3 years," it said. "Try it out and see what you think. I'll be back in touch in 6 weeks time." It was simply signed, Tony. No surname. No address.

I was intrigued, but when I started to read through the wad of papers my heart sank. It was all about horse racing. Yes, this was a betting system, and I wasn't happy!

You see, back in 1995 we didn't publish or market anything to do with betting or gambling. I thought it was a mugs game with only one winner – the bookmakers. But there was something about this tatty pile of papers that piqued my interest. Maybe it was the mystery of it all, or maybe it was the fact that it was obvious that whoever 'Tony' was, he knew his stuff...but whatever it was I wanted to find out more.

I asked one of our staff to 'dry test' the system over the next few weeks. It wasn't difficult for them to do. As you'll see, the system is very quick and simple to implement. There's nothing complicated about it, and that worried me at first, because I figured that if you were going to beat the bookies, you'd have to do something pretty clever.

Anyway, I set all concerns aside - there was nothing to lose after all - and asked Nicky to simply follow the system to the letter. I chose her because she knew absolutely nothing about horse racing or gambling and wouldn't be tempted to second-guess the system. I also figured (perhaps a little unkindly) that if she could follow the system and profit from it, anyone could!

Over the next 4 weeks, she followed the simple step by step instructions which Tony had laid out to the letter and kept a detailed record of bets placed, wins and losses. When the month was up, she walked into my office with the result. I skipped over the names of horses and race courses I knew nothing about to the bottom line where I found the following: Profit £962.50!

I was pretty excited by this – it was the first gambling system I'd found that worked – and anxiously waited for 'Tony' to get back in touch. In the meantime, I decided to do a live test of the system over the next 4 weeks, and that came back even better – over £1,300 profit. But real money this time!

By now, I'd decided that this would be our first gambling related product, but there was a problem. No Tony! We waited for several months, but the guy never got back in touch. Never heard from him again. And so we had a bit of a dilemma.

On one hand, we had a gambling system that worked fantastically well, but on the other, we didn't know who had created it. Had he died? Lost interest? Forgotten about it? We had no idea, but we didn't feel able to do anything with it for a while. But then after about 18 months, we decided that this was a waste – when we had customers who could benefit massively from it.

And so we decided to give it away – as a thank you to a handful of our best customers – people who had already spent a great deal of money with us in the past and who we wanted to thank in a tangible way. Within weeks, it was them who were thanking us....

- Mr K Kane

“Anyone wondering whether to give the system a try should do so immediately. I have been using the system since you sent it to me and the results are as follows...won 15/8, won 10/3, won 5/1, 2nd 7/1, won 4/1, won 15/2. Absolutely brilliant...who the hell needs a job.”

- Mr S Lloyd

“I found your horse racing system to be profitable. I had 3 wins from 4 bets at 7/2, 9/2 and 7/4. Many thanks”

- Mr E Bearne

“Thank you for the racing system. I had never betted on a horse in my life. I had to ask someone in the betting shop how to write the betting slips. I have profited so far by £340 over the last 6 weeks.”

- Mr P Stapels

In short, the system was a stunning success, generating thousands of pounds for the handful of people we shared it with. But – and here's what's strange – despite all this success, we never marketed it to either our customers or the general public. It somehow didn't seem right while 'Tony' was still on the missing list.

He never did turn up, and his system never saw the full light of day. We moved on to other things, and to be honest, I'd forgotten all about it, until in early January 2009, I received a letter from an old customer. Here's what he said...

“Many years ago, sometime in the 1990's, I subscribed to your business magazine and found success with a horse racing system you sent me called System 89P where I made £29,000 from £400 in four months. Would you send me a photocopy of the system as I've lost mine.”

Wow.... £29,000 in 4 months!

Suddenly the memory of the fantastic success we'd had with System 89P came flooding back. But the excitement was short-lived, because I realised that before we moved from the offices we were working from in the mid 1990's, we'd had some computers stolen in a break-in. They weren't backed-up. And System 89P was on one of them!

The only hope was if we'd kept a hard copy of the system somewhere. Now we have over 5,000 square feet of offices and warehouse...literally thousands of files and storage boxes.

Needles and haystacks spring to mind. But we had to try, and so I gave one of our staff two days to try to find it – if it was there. The Gods were on our side...

Within an hour she was back in my office clutching a bunch of rather sorry (but readable) papers, with the words System 89P typed boldly across the top.

As I re-read the system instructions, I was relieved to find that my memory hadn't been playing tricks on me. It was child's play to understand and implement; taking just a few minutes a day at most. You don't need to know anything about horse racing to make money from this. You don't need to know anything about betting or odds to make money from this. In fact many of the people who have profited from System 89P has never placed a bet in their life before. The truth is that the people who we privately shared the system with back in the mid 1990's weren't gamblers at all – they were just ordinary men and women looking to make some extra money from home.

It was pretty obvious that 'Tony' was never going to turn up, and times were getting tough. I figured there were probably a lot of ordinary folk who would appreciate a simple but highly effective way to make an easy extra few hundred (or maybe thousand) pounds a month from home. That's why you're sitting with a copy of System 89P in your hands today.

The recession and credit crunch are making life a lot harder for so many people; this is an opportunity that is tailor-made for tough times. It will continue to work like clockwork, no matter what the economy is doing. Take a little time to familiarise yourself with the information and instructions that follow, and you'll very quickly be ready to go.

I very much look forward to hearing of your success and profits with System 89p.

Integrated Horse Racing Selection And Staking System

Introduction

Over the year's horse racing betting plans have been advertised and hawked around, claiming that using them will make you rich. System 89P is one of those rare systems that actually work – having proved itself over the last few years.

Systems such as this are the ultimate in racing strategies. System 89P is a comprehensive ongoing selection and staking plan to operate over a period of time. It is extremely efficient, incorporating a sound selection method and a unique staking method that has produced amazing results over its test period.

All of the most complex composite ongoing racing strategies follow a formula similar to System 89P. So, once you have read and understood it you will truly be able to operate in the realm of the professional bettor. Although System 89P is designed to give you the ultimate betting advantage, later in this section you will find ways in which you can modify the system in accordance to your own taste and pocket.

Points Mean Prizes

In this system betting points are allocated for each race. This is necessary for calculating how much to bet on each selection. A unique stake adjustment formula is then used, which will guarantee that:

- Any losses made are not large
- There will be no prolonged losing runs
- A long-term profit will be achieved.

You are required to place bets using the principal race meeting as printed in the Daily Mail. Although most other national newspapers, and of course the specialist racing papers, publish comprehensive daily race cards, this system always uses the principal meeting as stated in the Daily Mail. When the System 89P was being tested the racing information printed in the Daily Mail was shown to be accurate, consistent and printed in such a way that the system was easy to implement. Although you may use another paper, it is recommended that you stick to just one publication when implementing the system.

System 89P's Advantages

Bet On The Right Runners At The Right Times

The advantages of this system are that it shows when the best time to continue betting is, and who to back. The statistics over the test period speak for themselves. One bettor placed 117 bets over a period of 56 weeks, averaging 2 bets per week. Of these 117 bets he had 44 winners at an average starting price of 7/2, showing a handsome profit of 252 points tax free.

Bet As Much As You Like

Although this system is based on allocating points, your base stake can be as much or as little as you wish. You could just bet £1 per point, and if this were used on the previous example, you would have profits of £252. If however you bet using a ratio of one point = £10 then you would have been over £2500 in profit.

In-Built Protection

It must be stressed that System 89P is designed for continuous, consistent use. Although it will undoubtedly bring excellent profits over a long period it is likely there will be the odd bad month. However, the system protects against continuous losses, and in time the winning streak will recommence and you will be back in the money.

Selections And Staking

The basis of system 89P is that on each racing day you select the second named horse in the betting forecast (Probable SP), running in the days principal meeting, giving you one selection per day. This selection method has been extensively proved. It turns up a healthy amount of well priced winners, giving you better prices than for the favourites, with more probability of winning than the horses lower down the betting list.

Here is an example from the Daily Mail of the race at Warwick where we would be looking to place a bet on the second named horse in the betting, Mongono.

2008: Josear 6 10 B (C Honour) 11-2 C Down 7 ran.

Some feel RUSSIAN FLAG saves a bit for himself at the business end but he again ran with credit at Newbury last time and deserves a change of fortune. Brave Villa will love conditions and does well in small fields but has been struggling for form of late. Mr Prickle is worth watching in the market on his debut for a shrewd stable, while Mongorno is a rare runner at the track for his northern yard and, although he has a bit to find with Amble Forge on their running at Bangor in November, he is progressing quietly. Amble Forge is unbeaten over fences at left-handed tracks at around 2m and a mini break may have brightened him up. Incorporation is 1-1 here and Derek Lavery has a good record on him (3-8).

You must only place a bet on your selection for the day when the system tells you to. On certain days, following either a win or a long sequence of losses, (more about this later) you must record the result of your selection but must not actually place a bet.

System 89P uses a progressive staking method, meaning that you alter your stake for each bet according to recent results. The staking method used has had excellent results over time, and has been shown to be far more efficient than other popular staking methods

For example:

‘Doubling Up’ – where bettors double their stake following a losing bet in order to recoup their losses is a common staking method, but a run of bad results means financial suicide. System 89P has built-in measures to prevent big losses.

‘Retrieve Staking’ – where the stake is set in order to retrieve the total amount lost on previous bets is also common. Although slightly more sensible than ‘doubling up’ it can still lead to bettors running out of cash before they have recouped their betting losses, and wins. When they occur they tend to be more modest than with System 89P.

How To Operate System 89p Step By Step

Step One

Buy a copy of the Daily Mail each racing day and look at the principal race meeting. This is the meeting with the most prize money on offer that day. In the Daily Mail it actually states 'Principal Meeting' in the course details section.

Step Two

Now you have found the principle race you wish to bet on we now need to pick the horse. We do this by looking at the bottom of our race card at the betting forecast or probable SP (Note: at this stage it is merely a selection, not a bet). Then you will need to select the second named horse in the betting forecast (usually the second favourite). If there are joint favourites in the race, then select the horse named second.

Step Three

You then need to wait for two consecutive days when your selection loses before placing your bet (Note: losing days, since you only make one selection per day). Obviously, until it is time to place a cash bet you are simply recording results on paper. If, at this stage one of your 'on paper' selections wins, you must again wait for two consecutive losing days before placing a bet.

Step Four

Commence betting only after two consecutive losing days. Bet one point on your selected horse (using the selection method indicated in step 2). Don't forget that although you are only betting one point, you can allocate cash to points betted in whatever proportion you wish. For example, you could start by betting £1 per point. Use of the points system simplifies the staking process and enables you to gauge your betting profits over time. Once your profits increase you could bet £2.00, £5.00 or even £100.00 per point.

Step Five

If you have a losing bet, increase your stake for the next racing day by one point. Increase your stake by one point with each subsequent losing day until you have a winning selection.

Note

Following a winning bet you must start again the following day at step three. (In other words, go back to making your selection every day as usual, then recommence betting following two consecutive losing days / selections).

The Restart Betting Formula

Step five (How To Operate System 89p Step By Step) indicates that following a winning bet you must restart the sequence with a reduced point's stake. Here's how to work out how many points to use to restart betting with:

- 1) Write down the number of points you staked on your winning bet.
- 2) Write down your winning horses' starting price and then round that starting price up to the nearest whole figure.

For example a starting price of:

2/1 = 2 Points

10/1 = 10 points

evens 1/1 = 1 point

6/4 = 1.5 Points, which is rounded up to 2 points

5/4 is approximately equal to 1 point (nearest whole figure)

- 3) 2/1 = Subtract 2 from 1 to give you the number of points with which you recommence betting with. (I.e. winning stake - winning starting price = stake to restart betting with)

While the above formula may look complicated, it's actually very easy to pick up and you should soon be able to do the calculations in your head.

The formula is illustrated in the example below:

EXAMPLE A

Winning Stake	5 Points
Minus Winning Starting Price	2 Points
Recommence betting with	3 Points

EXAMPLE B

Winning Stake	3 Points
Minus Winning Starting Price	2 Points
Recommence betting with	1 Point

EXAMPLE C

Winning Stake	3 Points
Minus Winning Starting Price	1 Point
Recommence betting with	2 Points

In practice, the combination of stake and starting price will usually mean that once you have a winning race you will have to restart betting with a stake of one point (You obviously can't go lower than one point).

Why is this system of reducing your stake following a win used? Well, over time you will get more winners at short odds than long odds. If you get a winner at long odds it's statistically likely that will not happen again for a while, so it makes sense to restart betting with stakes at, or near one point. However following a win with short odds it is reasonably possible that this will happen again fairly soon, so the stake is not reduced by as much.

In other words, using this system means that following a long-priced win you won't get overconfident and bet (and lose) too many points the following day. Far too many bettors, although they have had their fair share of winners, have lost in the long run because they have lost large stakes on losers and only bet small stakes on winners. The staking method used here minimises this risk, and has proved to be a good way of 'investing' points over time.

If you get six consecutive losses then stop betting. This limits losses to 21 points in any sequence and safeguards you against a long losing run – a pitfall of many racing systems. In the test period of System 89P the losing maximum sequence never occurred, but in all probability it will eventually, and this is why the 'Stop Betting' trigger is included.

If a winner does not arrive during this sequence and you reach six consecutive losses, then you go back to step three and wait for two consecutive losing days as before and recommence betting with a reduced stake.

Main Points To Remember

Don't forget these points when you are using System 89P:

- Make sure that, starting from day one you don't actually commence betting until you have had two consecutive losing days.
- If you have a losing bet just apply the rules of the system and increase your stake by one point each racing day if you continue losing.
- Following a win, don't forget to wait for two consecutive losing days before recommencing betting with a reduced stake (Check reduction formula).
- Don't be too downhearted when a losing streak arrives, as it inevitably will. Just follow the rules of the system, keep betting and success will come soon.
- Remember to stop betting after six consecutive losses, and then restart the system as before.
- To get the best results and profits you must use the system consistently over a reasonable period of time.

12/3	4		13/4	3
13/3	4		14/4	4

To work out how many points the odds convert to we can use this simple calculation below. This can be applied to any odds that aren't shown in the table above.

Odds : 6/4

Calculation: 6 divided by 4 = 1.50 because this is .50 we would round this up to 2 points.

So any calculation that is .50 or above we round up to the nearest point.

Odds: 9/4

Calculation : 9 divided by 4 = 2.25 because this is .25 we would round this down to 2 points.

So any calculation that is below .50 we round down to the nearest point.

Using The System Exclusively Online

System 89P was developed long before the internet came along, but betting online is fast becoming the quickest and easiest ways of using the system. If you want to do it this way – and you probably should – all you need to do is replace the Daily Mail with the online version of the Sporting Life and follow the instructions below.

The website we recommend for looking up all your daily race information / selections is the website for the Sporting Life www.sportinglife.com

Their website includes information on every fact you need to know, from the form of horses in meetings across the country, the going of the courses, age of horses, handicap ratings and other information relevant to the race in question. Tips are also included, given by tipsters via a phone call. It also contains a good selection of all the latest news, stories and statistics, and also provides you with links through to the independent betting sites.

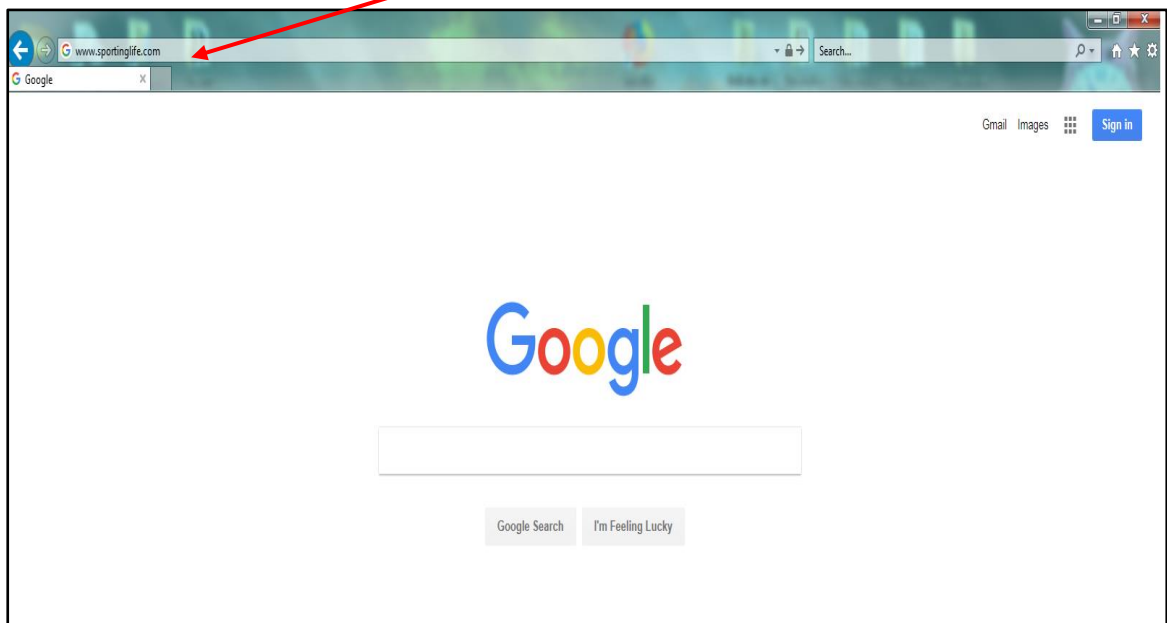

Another key factor of using the Sporting Life online website is that all the data for the days races is available the night before so, you can decide on your selections in advance.

In order to get the most from the Sporting Life site you need to register but this is a quick and stress-free task, which once completed will unlock all aspects of Sporting Life Online.

Setting Up A ‘Sporting Life’ Account

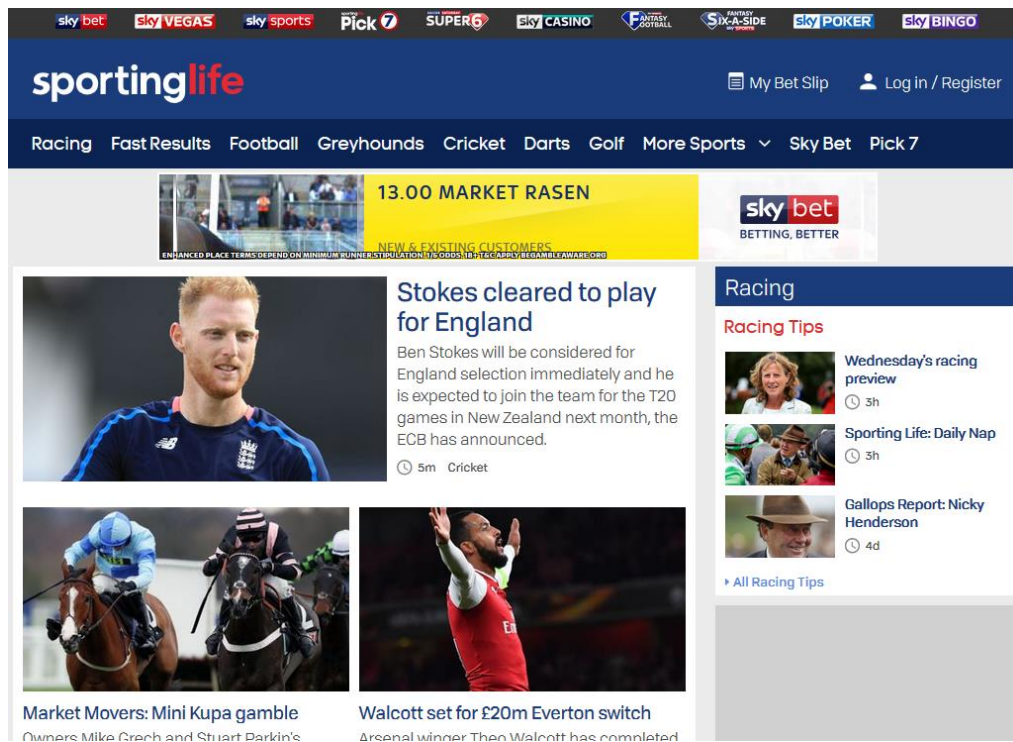

The first stage of this section is for you to open a new account with Sporting Life or login with an existing account.

1. Firstly open your internet browser window and then in the address bar at the top of the page enter the following website address www.sportinglife.com as illustrated below:

2. Once you have entered the link into your browser window press the return key to take you through to the website.
3. You should then see the home page of Sporting Life.
4. In order to open an account with the Sporting Life to get access to all the latest information and features click on the ‘login’ or ‘register’ sign as shown below.

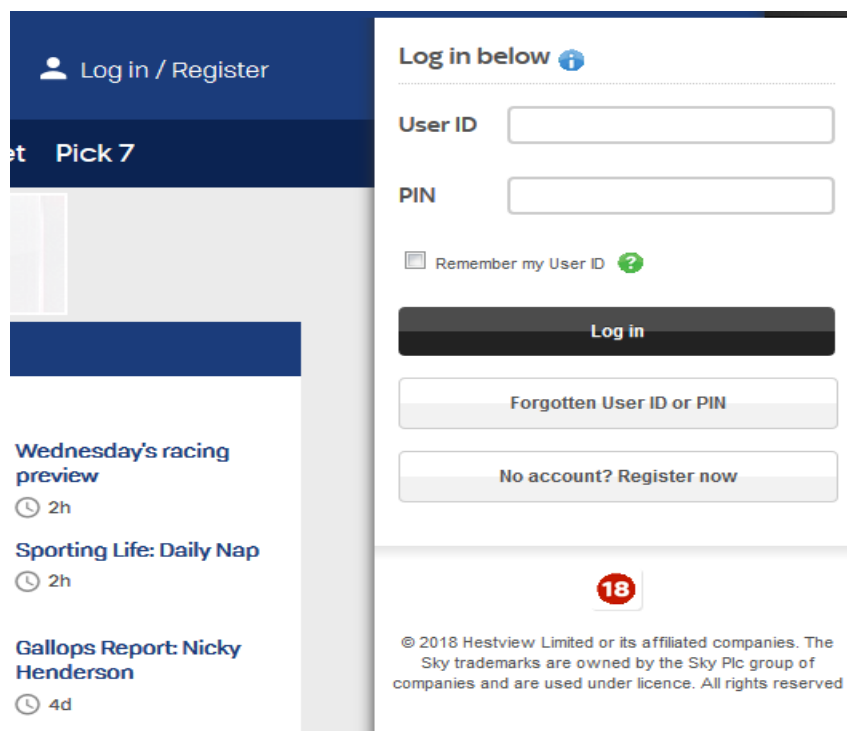

- You will then be greeted by the Sporting Life homepage.

- On the tool bar at the top of the page click on Log in/ Register (shown in the picture below.)

- When you click this a pop up box will then be shown same as the one below. You either sign in if you have an account. If you don't have an account click "No account? Register now button".

8. You will then need to complete your details as illustrated. Create a Username and Password. You will also have other various questions to fill out in order to register.

13. Make a note of only the races with eight or nine runners in the racing cards. If there are no races in this meeting that have 8 or 9 runners then you would simply class this as a losing day as you were unable to make a selection.
14. Once you have your races with only 8 or 9 runners in them. We then need to filter out which race we are going to bet on. We do this by picking the race that has the most prize money on offer. It does happen were the races will have the same prize money on offer, if this is the case then we would narrow the selection again by picking the best class horses, class 1 being the best through to class 7. If this selection process also fails then we move on to the horses ages the younger groups the better progressing to 6yrs+

15. Now you have made the selection for the race you wish to bet on we now need to pick the horse. We do this by looking at the bottom of our race we picked at the betting forecast as in the picture below (Note: at this stage it is merely a selection, not a bet). Then you will need to select the second named horse in the betting forecast (usually the second favourite). If there are joint favourites in the race, then select the horse named second.

16. You then need to wait for two consecutive days when your selection loses before placing your bet (Note: losing days, since you only make one selection per day). Obviously, until it is time to place a cash bet you are simply recording results on paper. If at this stage one of your 'on paper' selections wins, you must again wait for two consecutive losing days before placing a bet.

17. Commence betting only after two consecutive losing days. Bet one point on your selected horse. Don't forget that although you are only betting one point, you can allocate cash to points betted in whatever proportion you wish. For example, you could start by betting £1 per point. Use of the points system simplifies the staking process and enables you to gauge your betting profits over time. Once your profits increase you could bet £2, £5 or even £100 per point.

18. If you have a losing bet, increase your stake for the next racing days by one point. Increase your stake by one point with each subsequent losing day until you have a winning selection.

19. Following a winning bet you must start again the following day at step 14. (In other words, go back to making your selection every day as usual, then recommence betting following two consecutive losing days / selections).

Note: When you restart following a win, you don't necessarily recommence betting using a stake of one point. To calculate the stake you should use when you restart, use the formula that follows.

Conclusion

A considerable amount of research and time has gone into testing this method of picking horse race winners over different time spans. All the evidence shows that System 89P works brilliantly if followed to the letter.

Note that this system does not work by ‘magic’. It has simply been statistically proven to show when to bet, what to bet on, and when not to bet. As with any system you should test it out on paper to establish its viability before spending a penny.

Since its inception, System 89P has made big money for the racing punters – professional and amateur – who have used it. Perhaps the most sophisticated and effective strategy of its kind. In betting terms it will place you consistently ahead of the rest of the field.

Customer Comments*

Here's what people who have tried System 89P say about it...

"I have almost completed my first trial month with the 89p system and I am delighted with the results. I plan to move towards £100 per point very shortly. What a simple but beautifully conceived system. Well done and thank you for making it available."

- Tom Phipps

"I have grown my starting capital by 40% in 4 months. For anyone with discipline, patience and a decent bank to start with then it is definitely a worthwhile investment based on my experience to date."

- Andy Carey

"I am going back to 'System 89p' where I was making a small profit."

- Iain Jack

"It is very clearly explained and an excellent introduction."

- Alan Thompson – Devon

"As a matter of interest, I started using 89p on June 20th (on paper) and after seven days, at £50 per point the system is showing a healthy profit of just over £600. The month was played strictly according to the letter and the system worked. At the end of the month's trial it was showing a profit of £2,519.00 – This is quite remarkable. The creator of this system was no mean scholar: it is obviously based on a complex system of mathematical probability, but he must have put in months feeding sufficient data into a computer to get it down to the simple form in which it exists... The best bit is that those b.....s at H.M. Revenue & Customs can never get their grubby little claws on a penny of it!"

- D.A Wilcocks – Norfolk

“Very profitable.”

- John C Bateman

“I am doing well with 89p system, I am a few grand in profit at the moment.”

- Paul Tozer

“Just to cheer you up 89P is showing steady profits to my amazement – better than nay tipster I have ever found.”

- Laurie Lane

“I would also like to tell you that between the 16th February and 21st March I have made £750 profit using £10 per point stakes. Best system that I have used to date by a long way as it imposes discipline on ones betting”

- Michael Moon

“I made £29,000 from £400 in four months.”

- Mr L Laverick

- Mr K Kane

“Anyone wondering whether to give the system a try should do so immediately. I have been using the system since you sent it to me and the results are as follows...won 15/8, won 10/3, won 5/1, 2nd 7/1, won 4/1, won 15/2. Absolutely brilliant...who the hell needs a job.”

- Mr S Lloyd

“I found your horse racing system to be profitable. I had 3 wins from 4 bets at 7/2, 9/2 and 7/4. Many thanks”

- Mr E Bearne

“Thank you for the racing system. I had never betted on a horse in my life. I had to ask someone in the betting shop how to write the betting slips. I have profitted so far by £340 over the last 6 weeks.”

- Mr P Stapels

System 89P –

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. There could be more than one race from the Principal Meeting with 8 or 9 runners. Do I just take the first one, or is there some way of choosing between the two?

A. You choose the race from that meeting that has the most prize money on offer, out of the races with 8 or 9 runners.

Q. Can we take races with less than 8-9 runners?

A. No, the system only supports races that have 8 or 9 runners in the meeting.

Q. I have not placed a bet the last two days - the horses won on both days. Is there any special reason no wait for 2 losing days?

A. You have to wait for two losing days as the system relies on a progressive staking method which is proven to be far more efficient.

Q. What stakes per point did Mr John Harrison use when he tested the system and made a profit of over £1300 in 4 weeks?

A. Mr Harrison used a point stake of £50 per point.

Q. When a bet is placed, should it be each way?

A. All bets from the system are to win. There are no each way bets.

Q. Do we always back to win? No each way bets at all, even if price is high?

A. Yes you always back to win. Never bet each way, even if the price is high.

Q. Do we stick with our original selection even if this horse becomes the favourite as the race approaches?

A. If you have already placed your bet, and the horse becomes favourite, you stick with your selection in this instance.

Q. How much money do we stake per point?

A. The unit staked is completely up to each individual e.g. £1 = 1 Point or £10 = 1 Point or even a £100 = 1 Point. It's entirely up to the individual.

Q. If the selected horse doesn't run, does this count as a losing selection?

A. Yes this would be classed as a losing selection as your horse has been unable to complete the race.

Q. When is the best time to place your bet?

A. Between 9.30am - 10.30am seems to be the best time to get the best prices. However, time constraints may make this difficult for you and you can place the bet at any time that fits in with your schedule.

Q. If the featured meeting on the www.racingpost.com web site does not have any races which have eight or nine runners, do I jump to the next meeting down the list and continue until I find a suitable race, or skip a day?

A. If the principal race meeting does not have any races with 8 or 9 runners, you would class this as a losing day as you are unable to make the selection.

Q. Does it matter if I don't do this every day? Sometimes I just forget, and I don't look at all at the weekend?

A. When you place a bet is entirely up to the individual but in order for the system to work to its full capacity you would need to work the system every day. You may have 5 or 6 days where you do not place a bet at all as the selections may not permit you to do so.

Q. How much of a betting bank would you recommend to start with?

A. A £200 betting bank to start would be fine as you could use the stake as £1 = 1 point to start with until you get used to the system.

Q. There is only one principal meeting per day so is there any need to pick out any other meetings providing there is 8/9 runners in that race?

A. This is correct you only need to make one selection from the principal race meeting, and not from any other.

Q. Could you please explain as to the situation if one horse drops out in an 8 horse race? Is there a bet still on?

A. If you have already placed a bet and a horse drops out of the race the bet would still be on, because at the time the bet was placed there were 8 runners and the prices of the horses reflected that this would still count as a bet.

Q. If before the start of a chosen race, non-runners reduce the field to less than the optimum 8 to 9 runners, should you cancel it if you haven't already placed your bet?

A. If you haven't placed your bet then do not place it and class it as a losing day.

Part 1

Q. If there are 2 races that have 8 or 9 runners in the principal meeting, I understand you would pick the race that has the highest prize money. What if then, in the race that has the highest prize money, your selection is a non-runner. (And a bet hasn't been placed) Would you then pick the selection from the next 8 or 9 runner race on the principal meeting?

A. If you have made your selection and the selection ends up being a non-runner you would class this as a losing selection as you need to pick the race with the most prize money on offer. This would rarely happen though as you are picking the 2nd favourite of the race.

Part 2

Q. If the non-runner selection is classed as a losing day, because you haven't actually lost your stake, what stake would you then put on the next day? Would you add 1 point or put the same stake on as you were going to put on the non-runner selection?

A. If this does happen then you would add 1 point onto the original staking amount you were going to place on the bet the day before.

Q. What if there were two races with 8/9 runners and prize money of £250,000.00 on them both. Is there a further qualification, such as least runners or perhaps earliest race?

A. If this does occur, where you have two races with 8 or 9 runners and they both having the same prize money on offer, you would then narrow your selection by picking the race in the best class. Class 1 being the best down to 7 which are regional races held at local tracks. Please see below:

Q. What if during the selection process the prize money and class have the same criteria? What we do we do then?

A. If this does occur where your selections have all the same criteria we would then add a further rule and pick the race with the horses ages. So we would pick the group which has the lowest age range running? E.g. (3-4yrs) or (5yo+)

NOTE: If at your chosen meeting all your search criteria is the same then class this race as a losing bet as the meeting does not meet our requirements.
